Upon release, The Director of Mihama Academy, Chizuru Tachibana, picks him up and takes him to the school where he is shown to his dorm room. Upon entering the dormitory, he is introduced to a colleague, Sachi Komine, who is wearing a maid's uniform. The next morning, he meets two other students, Amane Suou and Makina Irisu, in the lobby and later meets another student, Michiru Matsushima, in her classroom where she is practicing her tsundere speech. Once the lesson begins, he discovers that there is one more student in his class who is absent. Makina reports that the absent student, Yumiko Sakaki, only comes at night. When he comes to the classroom later that day to introduce himself, Yumiko tries to cut him with a box cutter. Upon returning to the dormitory, he finds Amane changing clothes in his room and, during the argument, he tells her that he had an older sister named Kazuki whose name she seems to recognize. Later, Yūji receives a call from J.B. who tells him that he has a job to do. The images during the end credits give clues as to why all the girls, except Yumiko, are enrolled in the school - as well as Yūji himself. 2School Killer YumikoTranscription: Sukūru Kirā Yumiko (のこー)12曲 October 2014 (2014-10-12) Yumiko Sakaki makes continuous attempts to cut Yūji, but to his frustration he avoids them all. Later that day he meets Makina, who is quite shy, but after he helps her catch a crayfish she to him and decides to call him Onii-chan. He then visits the principal's office for advice to resolve Sakaki's continued hostility toward him. He discovers that all other students have special circumstances to enroll in school. Yūji's guardian and head of work, J.B., comes to visit him at the school that arouses the curiosity of his classmates - especially Amane, who wants to know if Yūji has a girlfriend or not. Later that night in the dormitory, he is ambushed by Yumiko once again, but is almost taken by surprise, responding reflexively by hitting the knife from his hand and intimidating her with the display. He then tells her that he is not her enemy and intends to be her friend. From that day on, Yumiko's attitude toward him softens. The final montage of the credit shows how each of the other students arrived at the Academy and how they became friends. 3Sweet DietTranscription: Amai Shokuseikatsu () October 19, 2014 (2014-10-19) Returning to the dormitory after her morning run, Yūji sees Amane opening the lock of her room and immediately suspects she may be a killer. He listens and watches from the door as, to his considerable surprise, all she wanted to do was surprise him with a wake-up kiss. She then begins to jump on her bed and masturbate after smelling her used clothes. Yūji then makes his presence known for Amane's considerable embarrassment. While running to class later that morning, he invents a song for Makina in which he teases Amane for his previous actions. At lunch, Amane expresses her concern that Makina is beginning to imitate Yūji's waymenisms. That afternoon, Yūji hears an erotic voice and discovers that it is Michiru, who is playing with a kitten. The next day, he inadvertently agrees to make a shark bag (like Michiru's) only with glitter, although some quick thought on Michiru's part allowed him to thwart the bag in Makina. That afternoon, during the gym, Amane injures her ankle and Yūji takes her to the infirmary. After he treats his injury, Amane asks Yūji to be her boyfriend. When he refuses, she changes her request to be considered as her older sister, which he agrees with. The next day, Amane and Makina share their lunch with Yūji and he realizes that he has been avoiding people since the death of his master. 4Where to Aim the Silver BulletTranscript: Gin in Nerau Basho's Dangan () October 26, 2014 (2014-10-26) During his morning run, Yūji sees Michiru sitting on the grass with a cat on his lap looking out to sea and even a conversion with her. The next night, the dorm residents discuss Michiru's recent strange behavior. Later that night, Sachi, Yumiko and Yūji witness Michiru as she stumbles out of the dormitory having put hair paint on her eyes and dripping it all over the floor. The next day, asks Yūji and Yumiko if friendship between men and women is possible. When Michiru appears, she is also asked the same question and and out after replying. Yūji goes after her and confronts her, stating that she is different from the Michiru he first met. The new personality talks to Yūji, then kisses him and reverts to the original personality. The next morning, Michiru asks Yūji to demonstrate what his other i had done to him the day before and freaks out when he almost kisses her. She runs away to calm down and chases her cat. Yūji finds her in the bluff looking for the cat she called Meowmel (Nyanmel). As they walk home together, Yūji notices something and tells her to continue without him. Ignoring his words, Michiru appears and discovers that Meowmel has been run over and is dying. Yūji calls a taxi, but they are too late and Meowmel dies in Michiru's lap. 5Vox in BoxNovember 2, 2014 (2014-11-02) Michiru is devastated by Meowmel's death and has taken a number of pills. Yūji takes her to the infirmary where she recovers. Sachi gives her a locked box she received from Michiru. He opens and finds an exchange diary that Michiru kept with his other me. When Yūji confronts her with this, he discovers that Michiru developed the other personality after receiving a heart transplant and that her original personality has hidden and does not want to return. Yūji forces Michiru's original personality, and she says she wants to die. Yūji agrees to help her and he takes her to the bluff overlooking the ocean where she played with Meowmel and buries her alive in a coffin. Trapped in the darkness, Michiru begins to hallucinay and we see his past in a flashback. In high school, Michiru was depressed because she always said she was a failure and intended to kill herself. On the roof of the school, she met another suicidal girl, and the two became close friends. However, the girl later killed herself in front of Michiru, which caused Michiru's weak heart to give way and led to her heart transplant. Michiru later discovered that the heart she received maintained the original personality of her owner, with whom she was able to communicate. Back in the coffin, Michiru realizes that she no longer wants to die and she pushes her way out of the coffin. Yūji, who waited three days for her to emerge, helps Michiru to the surface and he takes her back to the dormitory. Yūji later takes the alternate michiru to see her parents, and although she appears less often, she still resides in Michiru. 6Raison D'êtreTranscription: Rēzon Dētoru (Japanese: レー)November 9, 2014 (2014-11-09) In high school, Yumiko cuts off a girl's hand gossiping as she was the daughter of a mistress and was brought to her father's house only after her younger brother and heir to the family died. Yumiko's father wants her to take her place as the heiress of the Tohin Railway Group, and Yūji is ordered to act as Yumiko's bodyguard and then allow Yumiko to be kidnapped in order to scare her into returning home. However, Yūji to disobey orders and protects Yumiko. While waiting for a storm under a bridge, Yumiko reveals her past to Yūji. Angered by Yūji's challenge of his orders, Yumiko's father plans to make Yumiko study in America and orders him to shut down the school. Yumiko refuses to leave, prompting her father to come to school to appeal personally. To her surprise, she opens fire on him with a gun and precipitates a stalemate. When her men load the building after her ammunition runs out, she pulls the pin out of a grenade and apparently kills herself. However, Yūji helped Yumiko fake his death. Yumiko receives a new identity, including a fake family record and begins a new life as another student at the school. 7Letter of HappinessTranscription: Shiawase no Tegami () November 16, 2014 (2014-11-16) Sachi faints in the bath after taking something Makina said very literally. The next day, Michiru asks Sachi to make the next test disappear. Sachi locks himself in his room and begins to prepare to blow up the school using time bombs. The night before the test, her colleagues appear right after she starts the chronicles. Sachi tries to get them out unsuccessfully, but as Sachi throws himself over the explosives, they can't detonate. Yūji appears and has all except Sachi returning to the dormitory. He tells her that he tampered with the tempors, and called her Sacchan, revealing that he remembered her. As a child, Sachi was alone due to her very busy parents running her business. Sachi met Yūji on the playground and the two played together until he moved in. On Sachi's tenth birthday, his parents were injured after Sachi fled due to previous months of neglect. Her father was killed and her mother's been in a coma ever since. Sachi reveals that she believes that her parents were hurt because she was selfish and that she has to be a good girl who does what she is told to make up for it. Yūji refutes her by saying that the selfish whims to which she subjected him when they played together helped him forget his own problems at the time. To pay off this debt, he covers the disposal of his bombs with a fireworks display and this weekend, he takes her to visit her parents' store where they find a birthday show and letter. The day ends with Sachi visiting his mother in the hospital and then asking Yūji for a hug. 8The Seed of the World Tree ITranscription: Sekaiju no Tane Ichi (Japanese: のいし)November 23, 2014 (2014-11-23) Makina sends Yūji an email stating that he has now graduated from onii-chan status to Pope status. When a confused Yūji confronts her, Makina presents Yūji with a check of 70 million yen, the entirety of his inheritance, so that he may act like his father. Reluctantly, he agrees and goes on to keep an eye on her. In the envy of the other girls, especially Amane, who claims that if Yūji is her father, then she could be your mother. Mother. a break from school, Yūji takes Makina to his home in the mountains where he used to live with his master. Later, by chance, Makina meets her younger sister and Irisu's heiress, Sarina, in the city, but passes without saying anything to her. To his horror, his sister's car explodes moments later. The shaken makina is cared for by her classmates and when she wakes up Yūji informs her that her sister has been taken to the hospital and is expected to survive. That night, Yūji is called to work where JB presents him with a dossier for his next work - and the target is Makina. 9The Seed of the World Tree IITranscription: Sekaiju no Tane Ni (Japanese: のいし)November 30, 2014 (2014-11-30) Yūji takes on the work JB gave him, but only so he can protect it. For this, he and Makina leave the Academy to present a moving target and Sachi gives Makina an apple seedling as a parting gift. The organization's efforts to get hold of Makina are fruitless, as Yūji is able to get rid of all agents sent after them. As they flee, Yūji becomes aware of Makina's recurring nightmares involving her father. It is revealed that a few years earlier Makina's father found evidence of Irisu group corruption and was killed in front of Makina by order of his wife. Makina spent several years in a hospital recovering from the trauma. It is further revealed that she has an almost photographic memory and had read some of the incriminating documents before her father's death. It turns out that Makina's mother ordered Makina's murder because she called her mother and threatened to reveal corruption unless her younger sister was kept safe. When his last hiding place is compromised, Yūji manages to get them out, but Makina forgets his name. Despite Yūji's admonition to forget him, Makina returns to the hotel to look for him and is shot. Yūji appears in time to take her to a hospital, but is intercepted by JB. At the hospital, Makina's mother appears and, to JB's horror and heartbreak, asks if Makina's internal organs are unharmed because Sarina is in need of an organ transplant. Later, an undercover Yūji appears at Irisu Group HQ and shoots Makina's mother. With the contractor for success out of the picture, and with concrete evidence of Irisu Group corruption in the hands of the organization, Yūji and a recovering Makina return to the Academy. 10Angelic Howl ITranscript: Enjerikku Hauru Ichi (Japanese: のい) To complicate things, he discovers that Sachi witnessed the kiss, but promises not to say anything. Yūji returns to his room to find Amane waiting for him. Following his usual pranks and a bath, Yūji sits down to dinner when Amane receives a picture of JB kissing him (Sachi took 'saying' literally), which arouses his jealousy. Yūji asks Amane why she is so persistent in him to which she replies that it was love at first sight. He's not satisfied with her response and puts pressure on her. She breaks down and Yūji's shock mentions her sister's name. She reveals that she and Yūji's sister Kazuki were freshmen on the same basketball team in high school. While they speak more Yūji finally agrees to allow her to act as his girlfriend, as long as he does not have to act like her boyfriend. Amane then retrieves a diary from his room and gives Yūji to read. The newspaper documents the tragic events that happened to the basketball team as Amane, the only survivor, remembers them. 11Angelic Howl IITranscription: Enjerikku Hauru Ni (Japanese: のい) As the days go by, they bury their dead and continue to gather as little food as they can find. When the others approach the fleeing pair, Kazuki stands behind as a bait to let Amane escape. At first hailed as a miracle survivor, Amane soon faces questions about why she was the only one who survived. Suffering from nightmares, relentless public pressure convinces her that she should be punished for living when everyone else died and that Yūji is the person with the greatest right to punish her. She even asks Yūji to kill her. Meanwhile, the man who approached Yūji entered the Academy and took the other girls hostage and demands Presence. When they return home, Amane prepares to turn himself in and Yūji, having been able to hear those happening at school via cell phone, comes up with a plan to end the impasse. The kidnapper is revealed to be the father of Chiaki Sakashita who was unable to cope with his daughter's death and wants to kill Amane for surviving. Having decided that shooting Amane would be a very easy death, Sakashita removes her to the bathroom to have her way with her. Yūji is able to cut Sakashita through a 10 cm wide field of view more than 900 meters away, ending the hostage situation and reuniting him with the girls. Yūji successfully completes the mission, saving the hostage, Chizuru. Two years later, Yūji is invited to his boss, JB's office, to talk about his childhood and education. He tells her about a painful experience in his past involving his sister, Kazuki. Among her many talents, Kazuki was a talented artist and selling her paintings soon became the main source of domestic finance. As a result, she also became the dominant person in the family. Kazuki is shown to have had an incestuous love bordering on his brother.

Kazuki's death had a profound effect on the rest of the family. Having lost his main source of income, his father became an alcoholic and abusive. Yūji and his mother fled, but about a year later Yūji's father found them and raped his wife in front of Yūji. To protect his mother, Yūji hit his father in the head with a bottle, killing him. Her mother handed her her bank book and told Yūji to wait for her at the station. Sensing that something was wrong, Yūji returned home and discovered that his mother had hanged herself. Yūji was welcomed by one of the men who bought his sister's paintings. Yūji was forced to wear dresses and a silver wig, in which he looked a lot like his sister and he would molest him. One day, one of the guardians tried to assault Yūji, who killed him in self-defense. Instead of getting angry, his tutor seemed satisfied and sent Yūji to a school where he and other children were taught various skills related to terrorism and murder. Yūji's aptitude for this vocation earned him the dislike of his colleagues, who regularly beat him. When it came time for her graduation, Yūji was put in a battle to the death against Marlin, the only student to show her kindness, but he was unable to kill her. She later graduated, but was killed in her Mission. When Yūji finally graduated, he became a skilled skilled that caught the organization's attention. A team from the organization led by Asako Kusakabe broke into the school of assassins and fought to the basement where they found Yūji handcuffed to a bed. In the confusion, your guardian managed to escape. Back in the dorm, Sachi reveals to the other girls that she found and reconstructed torn documents from Yūji's room. The flashback begins with Yūji in the hospital and being visited by Asako Kusakabe and his friend JB, where Asako declares that she will be his god from that point and will take him with her home. Here they find all the scars from his previous injuries. At dinner Yūji accidentally kills a fly and shows signs of trauma from killing people. Shortly after, Asako is seen trying to feed Yūji, but he declared that his food is too horrible to be considered edible. Asako gives Yūji a dog that Yūji calls John and they become constant companions. Asako trains Yūji in all sorts of things in which he enjoys sharp shooting. Later, while Asako is away, the house is attacked by a bear that kills Yūji's dog. Yūji chases the bear to save his dog, but is unable to pull the trigger, especially after seeing him just feeding his cubs. When Asako arrives, he tells her that he was completely useless, but Asako consoles him by saying that he is fine as he is. Later that day, when they bury John Asako tells Yūji that he is not allowed to die unless he saves 5 people and tells him that he must become someone who can pull the trigger for others instead of himself. 2The Casulo of Caprice IITranscription: Kapurisu no Mayu Ni (Japanese: の繭II)April 26, 2015 (2015-04-26) Asako tells JB that Yūji is no longer a virgin and that they have done so many times since her birthday. Asako convinces JB to also sleep with Yūji and prevents her from retreating. Some time later, when Asako's health begins to deteriorate for an unknown reason, Yūji ends up taking her place on some missions, which greatly upsets JB when she finds out. Eventually, Yūji also decides to work for the same organization as Asako, and JB eventually agrees. Yūji and Asako travel to America and Yūji is enrolled in a military academy, where he befriends the slightly older Daniel Born. Yūji ends up constantly helping Danny with his training. When Yūji wins first place in aim, he is challenged by second-place winner Milliea Stanfield for a shooting competition. Yūji discovers that the Immortal is mistakenly taken from the Japanese word Imouto which means little sister as Robbie is known to be an otaku who plays erotic games with little sisters. His platoon is dispatched into a jungle where Yūji gives a brief summary of his companions' past. Daniel Danny Born is a former arizona car thief, Milliea Millie Stanfield was a poor prostitute, Robbert Wallson is an otaku who only loves two-dimensional women and Yūji who describes himself as a shooter unable to kill. They are introduced to another new platoon member, Edward Walker, who Yūji has trained in shooting practice before and his platoon leader Justin J Mikemeyer, a military physician. After a somewhat awkward speech, Justin renames his platoon to the Bush Dog Platoon. During one of his night missions, his platoon engages with an enemy group during which Yūji forces himself to kill 9 people after a few words of encouragement from his friends, but he becomes ill and vomits after each death. Despite this, his efforts saved his platoon. Eventually, he overcomes this weakness and gets used to killing in battle. After his platoon duties have ended Yūji returns to Japan. Millie and Danny see him leave and it is revealed that Millie confessed her love to Yūji only to be rejected, but she continues to wait and pray for her good fortune. Meanwhile, Yūji is assigned to various missions by JB after he officially inherits Asako's old code name at CIRS, 9029. While on a guard mission in Colombia, Yūji receives a call from JB stating that Asako collapsed causing him to run home. Yūji reveals that Asako suffers from a kind of venous thrombosis and that the original cause was a capillary rupture that happened after Asako was shot from a high-caliber rifle. Although such a condition was usually a survivor. Asako, despite his periodic treatment, regularly used booster drugs that made his body fragile. The doctors concluded that there was nothing they could do for her. Now, on his deathbed, Asako receives Yūji at home and he tries to make her live and eventually casks up in tears. Asako tells Yūji to live for his own sake, for he is now able to accomplish anything. Asako and Yūji briefly remember a brief moment in his past that Forgot. Asako then falls asleep and dies peacefully. Mourning the death of his best friend, JB remembers when they met in an orphanage as children. She then invites Yūji to live with her in his luxurious apartment which he does. Eventually, Yūji decides to search for souls that he and Asako originally planned years ago, albeit in a different location. After returning home, he visits the tomb he made for Asako near his former home, where he decides to do his youth more and enroll in a normal school that resulted in his transfer to The Mihama Academy and his current situation. As Yūji finishes his life story telling, JB's assistant Chiara Farrell enters the room that takes Yūji out and back to the academy, but when he leaves, he receives a mission to assassinate someone named Ethan Glow who is quickly revealed to be Heath Oslo, the terrorist who took Yūji as a child after his mother died. This sudden achievement causes Yūji to lose his composure and fail in his mission. He is then fortified by an unknown group. Back at Mihama Academy, the girls are shocked to see Yūji on the news and his alleged participation in a terrorist attack conducted by Oslo. 5The Seed of Blanc Aile ITranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane Ichi (Japanese: の繭I)May 17, 2015 (2015-05-17) The girls question Chizuru about what happened to Yūji, but all she says is a message left by Yūji himself telling them not to look for him or get too deeply involved if he suddenly disappears, as this is how his company works. Chizuru gives a brief explanation of Yūji's relationship with Heath Oslo making Yumiko sure that the government may be using Yūji to negotiate with Oslo, as he considers Yūji very important. Chizuru warns them not to do anything that could make Yūji's situation worse. She also announces that The Mihama Academy will soon close due to Yumiko's father, the school's main sponsor, losing his position and because Makina's family has stopped making contributions to the school. Later that night, the girls enter Yūji's room and find diary entries about the girls written on her walls and floor, including one that appears to be a suicide note. JB suddenly calls them and confirms that the news of Yūji being a terrorist is false, but he is still under suspicion and is being held in a prison. The girls then collect information about Yūji and Heath Oslo using Yumiko's information network and discover that Oslo had smuggled a weapon of mass destruction into Japan. Yumiko herself confirms this when she knows one of her connections which is none other than Robert Wallson, Yūji's old friend and comrade in the army. Robbie, now known as James Okada, is a former intelligence agent and opened his own soba restaurant after retiring. James reveals Yūji's location and to Yumiko a detailed explanation of the Thanatos System, a semi-organic computer capable of invading every and/or internet-capable device and can be considered the brain of the nation itself. James explains that acquiring the Thanatos System is Oslo's real goal and because the government cannot deliver it, they turned Yūji into a bargaining chip after Oslo attacked the consulate. Meanwhile, the other girls were reflecting on their future plans. The next day, Mihama Academy officially closes and all the girls, except Michiru, meet at the entrance to the school where they decide to help Yūji, even if it means they can never go back to their old lives. After Sachi makes a farewell speech to the school, the girls prepare to leave, but Michiru barely arrives after finally resolving her feelings and all five leave the Mihama Academy together. Back at the retention facility, Yūji is introduced to the Thanatos System itself, which uses a hologram to project the image and voice of his supposedly deceased sister, Kazuki Kazami. 6The Seed of Blanc Aile IITranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane Ni (Japanese: の繭II)May 24, 2015 (2015-05-24) After riding a train, the girls arrive at their new home, a boathouse owned by Yumiko who believes it is better to be able to get around, hiding place and everything else, in case the need arises. In prison, Yūji confirms that the hologram is in fact Kazuki after she answers his question. She then reveals that Oslo smuggled a new type of nuclear bomb that can cover a 50-kilometer radius if it explodes. It also explains why Yūji is valuable to Oslo; Yūji is the only survivor of a human experiment to create the final soldiers through various experiments, drug administration and testing. However, the booster medications used in the test subjects produced adverse side effects that resulted in the death of the test subjects within 2 years, but Yūji survived, thus making it a valuable project sample. Meanwhile, Michiru finds a cell phone in her purse that then rings and Kazuki's voice is heard despite yūji's phone number. She introduces herself as Thanatos and offers the girls her help to rescue Yūji in order to disrupt Oslo's plans. Despite their doubts, they decide to cooperate with her without knowing who she really is although Amane finds the familiar voice, but does not remember properly. The next day, Kazuki provides each of them with special cell phones to contact each other without being tracked. Before explaining her plan, she convinces Yumiko to admit her feelings for Yūji in order to test her resolve. Back at the Thanatos Prison, Kazuki reveals the truth of what happened to her during the bus accident years ago, after Amane escaped while she was left behind. 7The Seed of Blanc Aile IIITranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane San (Japanese: の繭III)May 31, 2015 (2015-05-31) JB explains to his assistant, Chiara Farrell, that she was because she is the person responsible for Yūji. She believes it is to prevent her from giving an unwanted testimony and that Yūji may be for his alleged attack on the consulate. She also announces that she will have a different job upon her return to Langley, but Chiara argues that it is only to keep JB quiet. JB then warns her to talk too much because they are under surveillance. Back at the women's boat base, Kazuki/Thanatos announces that Yūji will be transferred from the holding company on August 6 at 6:00 p.m.m. and that the girls must prepare a sum of 100 million before that. She has created a series of plans for them to earn the amount within a day and assigns the girls to do various jobs. Yumiko sells one of Makina's assets online and uses an auction site to buy and sell. Amane rents a car and is made to memorize complex route around the city. She once again finds Thanatos' voice familiar. Sachi opens a private bank account and later accompanies Makina to a gun manufacturer where she picks up a specially made pink sniper rifle that was ordered ahead of time by Thanatos. The shop's owner, Morishima, strongly suggests that he knew Asako, Yūji's late mentor and guardian, as she was a child like Makina reminded him strongly of her. Michiru, surprisingly, was designated as the most tiresome task in which she literally traveled to different countries on the day she engaged in a variety of transactions moving billions following Thanatos' detailed instructions and finally left with enough money to fulfill the necessary amount after which Thanatos explains her plan to rescue Yūji through an attack. Meanwhile, Chizuru, the now-closed director of Mihama Academy, receives a call from Thanatos offering her a location for the new Mihama Academy school building that she quickly accepts. JB is seen relaxing while watching television in his quarters when his TV suddenly displays a message from Thanatos saying that the YK Rescue Campaign of the Mihama Women's Volunteer Corps is underway for its confusion. Back at Ichigaya detention center, Yūji is tied up lying on a bed and being monitored by guards. Heath Oslo is then seen discussing the installation of the two warheads in a metropolitan area with one of his men who explains that one was planted while a suitable location is still being sought by the other. They then discuss their own plan to recover Yūji. The next day, the day of the operation, Yumiko gives a lively talk to the girls reminding them that they were going to a war zone where there was no guarantee of their lives and the girls eat what may be their last meal. 8The Seed of Blanc Aile IVTranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane Yon (Japanese: の繭IV)June 7, 2015 (2015-06-07) On the day of their operation, the girls make their final preparations: Makina rents a hotel suite where he prepares his cutting position, Michiru meets with a member of Yūji's organization and picks up a toy that Thanatos ordered, Sachi goes to the supermarket and buys ingredients make non-explosive smoke bombs and Yumiko discusses his plans with Thanatos. Thanatos, at a military base in Okinawa, Milliea Stanfield, now a pilot, seduces her fellow pilot in a bathroom and steals her uniform. At sunset, the operation begins when Yūji is being transferred to Akasaka to await trial. The armored car carrying Yūji is attacked by oslo men who kidnap him after killing the soldiers and tying a bomb to his wrist that is scheduled to detonate in six hours or if his vital signs weaken. Makina then causes a distraction on the road and pulls the engines out of her cars with anti-tank bullets. While unloading Yūji, Sachi uses her handmade smoke bombs to blind them allowing her to knock them out while she is wearing a gas mask to cover her nose and eyes. As the backup arrives for oslo's men, Amane arrives too and leads them all, along with Makina and Michiru, through the route she was taught and eventually out of town. Along a mountainous road surrounded by a forest, they are ambushed by the oslo men in a helicopter. Just as they are almost shot and killed, Millie arrives in a helicopter stole from her fellow pilot earlier and shoots down Oslo's helicopter. James Okada communicates with the girls and explains that the core of Thanatos can be saved. While all this was happening, JB arrives in the Thanatos System room and frees Kazuki, the core, from the system with James' help and they make plans to meet up with the girls on Kazuki's ship that just arrived. Amane turns on a turbo function on his car and launches them all into the sea where they land exactly on top of his houseboat, the roof of which had been greatly reinforced in order to accommodate the weight of a downcoming car. Only then, a submarine emerges from the sea and Kazuki appears on deck and presents himself as Thanatos. 9The Seed of Blanc Aile VTranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane Go (Japanese: の繭V)June 14, 2015 (2015-06-14) Amane is thrilled to see Kazuki again and thrills as the latter recalls the first of the promise they made years ago. Yūji regains consciousness inside a room and reunites with his former platoon leader Justin Mikemeyer, who has been promoted to Captain. Jimmy's wife, Zoey Graham, a CIA agent, enters the room and reveals that her father, a journalist who once chased Oslo, was murdered by Yūji while he was still working for Oslo. Zoey then admits her desire to kill Yūji in revenge, but he warns her that if he dies now, oslo's bomb men attached to him will explode and kill everyone on the ship. However, he declares that he will return and die at her hands after settle the score with Oslo. Zoey accepts how she doesn't want Yūji to die before Oslo is killed. On deck, Kazuki introduces Chizuru Tachibana as the ship's new owner and has renamed it Mihama Academy. Yūji, having recovered finds Kazuki on deck and asks her about his plans. She that he inherited an island in The Micronesia of Asako. Yūji then hits Kazuki for worrying so much for years and she apologizes. Yūji cries on his chest and Kazuki gives him two two Cut off her arm to remove the bomb and take refuge with her on the island for the rest of their lives or settle things with Oslo himself. He decides to go after Oslo and asks Kazuki to locate him. They then share a moment with each other. Yūji then reunites with Millie and comically sings her in the face in the reflection, having learned that she threw away her promising military career for him. He reveals his plans to face Oslo for the girls and promises to return. Michiru's second personality emerges and kisses Yūji for luck, which annoys the other girls, including Millie, who go on to punish her when Kazuki returns and reveals Oslo's location. As Yūji prepares to leave, JB warns him against the fight against Oslo and explains that it was Oslo who gave Asako the gunshot wound that eventually killed her, but this only fuels Yūji's desire to fight. He then leaves with Millie in a helicopter. On the ship, Kazuki declares that Oslo will be able to hijack the Thanatos System in a few hours, so she decides to get rid of the system that is currently running with auxiliary power from a power plant in the Pacific Ocean. Michiru is tasked with cutting the submarine cable that connects the System to its power source, while the other girls will look for bombs that can be scattered in the area. Yumiko is tasked with searching for possible sites of oslo's planted nuclear bombs and comes with two places, both directly connected to Oslo. In Akasaka, cirs high-ranking officials called Agnes Garrett, Yūji's former superior at the naval academy, to give information about him. Kazuki contacts them and uses her former position as the core of the Thanatos System to order Agnes to send a team to the bomb's potential locations. Unfortunately, cirs high-ranking officials are arguing over who to send to the areas until JB offers to take over on the spot. Finally, Yūji arrives at Oslo's base, kills the guard on duty, and sneaks in while silently declaring his return. 10The Seed of Blanc Aile VIITranscription: Buran'ēru no Tane Roku (Japanese: の繭VI)June 21, 2015 (2015-06-21) Yūji invades oslo's ship and kills several of the latter's men. Meanwhile, Agnes and JB inform Yumiko that they are working to deplan the bomb oslo planted earlier. Kazuki and Amane are seen in a dark room where the former is inside a capsule-like chamber where she disables the Thanatos System and asks Amane about her desire to associate with Yūji after learning all about him. On the deck of Oslo's ship, Yūji meets a man who looks like him but with white hair. The doire, who calls himself Du Pont, also refers to himself as Yūji and Kazuki's brother. The two engage in an intense and rapid fight to the death. Yūji seems to have the advantage early on until Du Pont injects a booster drug and tries to get Yūji to do the same, but he refuses. With the drug increasing his physical abilities, Du gains the advantage that forces Yūji to take the drug as well. The two fight fight but Yūji finally wins and kills Du Pont. Despite his exhaustion and injuries, he finally arrives at Oslo's office. Oslo welcomes him warmly, but after seeing that Yūji has no interest in hearing what he has to say, Oslo prepares to fight and draws a katana that belonged to Asako. They engage in combat, but Yūji, in his present state, can only dodge. Eventually, Oslo disarms and impales Yūji who uses his remaining strength to push Oslo to his desk where Yūji grabs a pen and stabs Oslo in the neck, killing him. Yūji removes the bomb that was tied to his wrist using Oslo's key and slowly moves away from the ship as it explodes. Just as he gives up all hope of escape, he sees a vision of Asako and finds a way out just as the bomb explodes and destroys the ship. Two years later, the girls settled on the island of Yūji. Makina is seen collecting some eggs from the chickens while Sachi goes fishing on the beach when Amane arrives by plane, having gone to a supermarket on the mainland. Kazuki is supervising Michiru doing homework when everyone arrives, including JB and Chizuru. They reveal that the new Mihama Academy building has been completed and the girls can go back to school. Meanwhile, Yūji, who survived and took half a year to recover from his injuries, is seen fishing and talking to Yumiko who reveals that cirs has been dissolved, but a new organization will be set up in his place, but Yūji has no desire to return. He then questions his survival, as he believes he is not yet destined to die causing Yumiko to tell him to live for everyone's sake, especially hers and everyone later takes a group photo together. While Yumiko narrates and reflects on their experiences, the other characters in the series are shown to have returned to their normal lives and jobs. During the final scene, Kazuki is seen on the beach while Chizuru offers him a drink. Kazuki then takes off her metal arm and takes the drink, to Chizuru's shock, as she believed the arm was a prosthesis when, in fact, it was a toy kazuki wore because she thought it would be a funny joke.
